

I'm Gone - James Woolwine, Paula Karahalis

(probably for female vocalist)

(verse 1)

Babe I didn't want to wake you as I packed my things, and snuck out of the bedroom. I just left my key, with this note in my empty sheets.

You made another lover's night; told me another lie.

You raised your voice for another fight, but I'm just sick of trying.

With rolled eyes you fake-apologized and offered a drunken kiss;
but I'm done with one-sided compromise so now you listen. This is the end.

(chorus)

So now my drawers are empty and I've stripped the walls;

left the ring you gave me somewhere on the lawn.

My tears are drying in the warmth of dawn.

That's the last time that you'll hurt me. It's over. I'm gone.

(verse 2)

You crawled into bed beside me, but I was just repelled as you snored out your cheap booze and the stench of someone else.

I kept staring at the ceiling asking myself when you'd give my heart another scar and do it all again. This has to end.

(chorus)

(bridge)

I'm better off with my new friends.

These lonely street lamps listen more than you ever did.

Each one I ask says move ahead.

Meet that horizon. Don't look back.

(chorus)

copyright 2016 James Woolwine, Paula Karahalis